

Murphy, Joanne -- Bio

A funny thing happened on my way to graduate school. An unexpected surgery interrupted my plans. While recuperating, I realized I should re-think my choice. I read all college catalogs over and over again. One day "photography" jumped off the page. It took me 2 1/2 years to take all the courses offered. My forte seemed to be fine art photography, specializing in architectural-type. Most of my work is done in black and white; the San Antonio Missions are a favorite subject.
