Kris's artwork is about creative expression. It is about those things that are important to her or that inspire her. She has worked in many different mediums from a young age focusing currently on paintings in oil or acrylic and colored pencil drawings.

For a number of years Kris and her son, who is a fine art photographer, displayed their work in their gallery known as the MJC Gallery right down the street from the restored Texas Theatre in downtown Seguin. She was also represented at Cactus Jack's in Historic Gruene, and is now showing at the River Art Group in La Villita, San Antonio.

Kris's awards include first place in the "Reflections of Texas" Art Show at the Luling Oil Museum, a 3rd place, two Best In Show, and honorable mentions at various shows of the Seguin Art League. She illustrated the book "My Home Town Seguin Coloring Book" which was published in 2008. Her work can be found in public and private collections.

In addition to an Associate's Degree in Psychology, Kris has studied independently and on the college level; drawing, design, and oil painting. She continues to develop her skills through self-study, private classes, and artist's workshops. She is a former member of the plein air group "The Texas Paint Slingers".

Kris was born in Long Beach, California. She has lived in Vermont, Kentucky, and Puerto Rico. For the past few years she has found a little place in Stockdale, Texas, to call home.
